You Can’t Use Up Creativity, The More You Use, The More You Have!

Every day is filled with new opportunities at Starlight Studio and Art Gallery

See How Your Gift Supports Creative Exploration:

Chace Lobley working to restore our Woolly Mammoth at 34 Helen St. Note the new eyes next time you visit her!

Mel Strayer got to pet her first chicken while the artists learned about environmentalism with Lara Buckley at Hickory Urban Sanctuary as part of “Magnified Observations: The Art of Wild” funded by a grant from NYSCA & administered by Arts Services Initiative.

The artists enjoyed working on a mural and garden on Starlight’s back patio after a long winter.

Janet Harrison’s solo exhibition, Music Inspired in our Blue Sink Café features a dynamic testament to her favorite musicians.

Kelly Evans published Another Light, a collection of her poetry and artwork. It is available for sale on our website: www.starlightstudio.org/shop. Listen to her read her poems here too!

Zeyneb Johnson reviewing her soon-to-be published memoir describing her childhood in Ethiopia.
